Asia Touch ... The Essence of Travel

Tha Kha Market & Amphawa Tour

There are a number of floating markets within Bangkok, Khlong Lat Mayombeing my personal favorite.

Then, there are also a number of even more famous Thai floating markets about an hour drive outside of Central Bangkok in a province called Samut Songkhram.

Damnoen Saduak is probably the most famous of all, and it's quite an extreme tourist attraction. Amphawa is another floating market that's huge and very popular to visit for both Bangkok locals and tourists.

But if you're looking for a quieter floating market experience that has a great local feel to it, Tha Kha Floating Market (ตลาดน้ำท่าคา) is a wonderful market to visit.

Originally the market was only open only 4 – 5 days determined by the phase of the moon, but now it's open on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays as well.
